INVITATION: InsurTech track at KBW's European financials conference

London

Tuesday 16 May 2017

Please join us at KBW's InsurTech track during our European financials conference on Tuesday 16 May.

The event builds on our successful inaugural insurance technology conference last year. This year we are offering a stream of presentations from innovative insurance technology companies to complement the meetings we shall be hosting with incumbent banks and insurers at our main financials conference (on 16 & 17 May).

KBW is increasingly convinced that technology is an underappreciated disruptive force for the traditional insurance value chain. It offers threats and opportunities for incumbent insurers that can only be fully appreciated by speaking with parties from outside the traditional industry circuit. Our InsurTech track promises to offer engaging presentations and ideas from business models that seek to support or compete with the current household names.

Participating companies include:

This event is open to KBW and Stifel clients only. Contact your KBW rep or email ntownsend@kbw.com to register your place.
